There is a small yellow stain in the lower left close to the edge, and the canvas has a small patch of craquelure in the center left close to the frame, but the surface is otherwise bright and clear. Under UV, scattered inpainting is evident in the sky and on the horse to the left (a spot on his nose and a patch on his flank). The silver frame shows signs of minor wear and tear, as well as splitting in the corners, but is stable and otherwise in excellent condition.
